Clinical Experience

- Louise has over 20-years of clinical experience as a physiotherapist working in a variety of clinical positions, thereby giving her excellent knowledge of clinical pathways in various rehabilitation settings.
- As the clinical lead for an NHS musculoskeletal service, Louise has worked across several injury types including major orthopaedic trauma, musculoskeletal conditions and neurological conditions. In this role, she was able to use her knowledge of injury to diagnose conditions, following which she would treat and provide injury management advice, or liaise with the wider multi-disciplinary team to refer for further treatment or diagnostics.
- Louise has previously worked in a bespoke neurological service which included assessment, diagnosis and treatment of patients with a variety of neurological conditions.
- In her most recent clinical post, Louise worked as a treating Occupational Health Physiotherapist where she would triage and assess patient need and provide injury management and return to work advice.

Rehabilitation Expertise

Rehabilitation Management

- Louise uses her clinical experience in her day-to-day case management by supporting her clients to return to function following life changing injuries.

- She is skilled in developing and co-ordinating multi-disciplinary rehabilitation programmes in community and hospital settings, enabling effective outcomes and working towards client goals.
- Through her clinical and case management work, Louise is experienced in working with GPs, multi-disciplinary health teams, social services, employers, insurers and solicitors.

Vocational Rehabilitation

- Using her occupational health experience, Louise is excellent at identifying expert guidance providing the appropriate support for return to work.
- As a physiotherapist, she naturally focuses on a holistic and client centred approach, with goal setting to engage and motivate clients. Louise is an effective problem solver, using her critical thinking training to support a timely return to work, where appropriate.
